

Nomadicare
2023
Projects

Two-year-old Altjin, whose birth is shown in Gobi Women's Song, is outside her family ger in the Gobi.

Dear Friends,

I am delighted to tell you I will return to Mongolia this July after three years of Covid break. My plan is to follow up on the families in our two Gobi movies. The first documentary, "Gobi Women's Song", showed Dulma giving birth to her daughter Altjin at the local rural hospital. Now Altjin is 22 years old and (I hear) has a family of her own. Our last documentary, "Gobi Children's Song", shows the family of Naraa, the girl we brought for burn care at Shriners in Boston from the time she was a baby. Naraa is now 14 years old. I long to catch up their stories and bring them back to share with you.

I am thankful for your support in making this glorious Mongolian experience happen for me for three decades and request your support to continue this year.

With tremendous gratitude,

Naraa, whose family is documented in our movie, Gobi Children's Song is shown at 8-years-old in Boston for burn care.

What's happening?

Our latest short documentary Gobi Children's Song is being distributed by Global Cinema Online.

Marrying Mongolia is now available

There will be a book launch in Washington DC in May.

For an inscribed book, order from Nomadicare.org or in person.

Request from your library or local bookstore.

Order from Amazon.com

Batchuluun, reindeer herder from the taiga, receives her hygiene kit and vitamin C packages in 2022.

What would you like your gift to do?

Here are some suggestions

- $50  Hygiene kits for Dukha reindeer herder families (need 20)
- $100  Vitamins for reindeer herder children (need 5)
- $2,000  Continue to update archives
- $2,500  in-country travel with translator

Thanks to those who are already supporting other aspects of this year's work!

Tax-deductible contributions of any size are greatly appreciated. You may send a check made out to: Ecologia with Nomadicare on the memo line in the enclosed envelope or click on the Donate button to use PayPal through our website www.nomadicare.ORG

Name: _____

Email: _____

Please share your email

Nomadicare

Nomadicare supports and preserves traditional Mongolian nomadic culture through healthcare, documentaries, and stories.

~

Nomadicare—a project of Ecologia 501 (c) 3 non-profit.

248 Washington St. Ext.,
Middlebury, VT 05753

802-349-9019

nomadicare.org
info@nomadicare.org